THE NUMB. 28.

South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, AUGUST 3, to Saturday, AUGUST 10. 1734.

BOSTON July 1.

By Capt. Heaſty from Glaſgow, we have the following Advices.

Genoa, April 13.

SEveral Merchants here have received Advice of Eight Britiſh Ships being taken by the Sallee Rovers, richly laden with Merchandize.

Nuremberg, April 24. Prince Eugene of Savoy is arrived here from the Court of Vienna, but does not propoſe to enter upon Action immediately.

Copenhagen, April 24. Some Days ago arrived in our Road three French Ships with Troops on Board, who gave out that they ſhall be ſpeedily followed by the Fleet from Breſt, with powerful Succours for Dantzick.

Mentz, April 24. Prince Eugene of Savoy is ſpeedily expected here to confer with our Elector about Affairs of the laſt Importance. We are putting ourſelves in the beſt Poſture of Defence we can; and at the Requeſt of the Duke of Bevern, our Bridge of Boats will be brought out again once more. The French bounce of an approaching grand Expedition, of which all Europe will ring; but if they do not make haſte, the Imperialiſts may ſpoil their Muſick, for we are aſſured, they will be ſoon able to face them, when joined by the Army of the Emperor. The Emperor alone is to have upon the Rhine beſides the Pruſſians, Danes and Hanoverians, an Army of 45,000 Foot, 6565 Curiaſſiers, 6564 Dragoons, and 3282 Huſſars.

Hanover, April 23. Upon the Arrival of ſome very important News from a certain Place, Men will not Name, our Privy Council was extraordinarily aſſembled this Forenoon, to take thoſe Advices into Conſideration. Whilſt the Council was ſitting, ſeveral Expreſſes were obſerved to go out; and among them one for London, by the way of the Hague, and another for Vienna, to acquaint the King of Great Britain and the Emperor with the Reaſons, why the Regency of this Electorate thought fit to ſuſpend the March of our 6000 Men to the Rhine; Orders being ſent to the Regiments which were actually marching, to halt wherever they are, till they receive countermands. Such an unexpected Accident, occaſions Variety of Speculations; but as they are all meer Conjectures, we ſhall paſs by, and leave the Diſcovery of Secrets to Events.

London, April 25. The Kingdom of Naples, according to Advices by a Mail from France, ſeems to be in a loſt Condition already, the Magiſtrates of that Capital having taken an Oath of Fidelity to Don Carlos, the Colateral Council, and the other Tribunals were paying their Homage to him; and the greateſt part of the Kingdom had actually ſubmitted, and had a ſolemn Promiſe of the Inhabitants being maintained in their Priviledges, and of having the heavy Taxes, impoſed on them by the Emperor, ſuppreſſed immediately, and the Penſions granted by the Emperor continued; that the Caſtles of Naples were very vigorouſly attacked; as alſo Capua and Gaeta; and 'twas expected would not make a long Reſiſtance, the Garriſons being but weak and ill provided for Defence.

The Kingdom of Sicily appears to be threatned with the ſame Fate as that of Naples; the Preparation of the Spaniards at Barcelona for a new Imbarkation of Troops for the Purpoſe of attacking the ſaid Kingdom, being very extraordinary.

Whether the French Spuadron will Sail for Dantzick, or is countermanded, is ſtill a Matter of Diſpute; however, if it is not, the Wind is very fair for the Voyage. The continual Accounts we have of the Progreſs of the united Powers in Italy, and of the French ſeizing the Electorate of Triers and raiſing Contributions there, and encamping about Worms, deſigning forthwith to enter upon ſome grand Action, cauſe very great Apprehenſion with reſpect to the Ballance of Power in Europe, and no leſs Deſire of knowing what Meaſures we ſhall take in that ſo very great and important Conjuncture. Mean time ſome are of Opinion, his Majeſty will wait to have the Advice of his new Parliament.

The Prince and Princeſs of Orange ſailed at Eight o' Clock Yeſterday Morning from Graveſend; and the Wind continuing very Fair, 'tis preſumed, they are in Holland by this time. The Mayor & Aldermen of Graveſend waited on his Highneſs laſt Tueſday in their Formalities, and preſented him with the Freedom of that Corporation.

There is much Talk of his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Orange being to be made Stat-holder of Holland, and of the happy Conſequences that will accrue thereby to this Nation.

The Britiſh Fleet continue yet in the Downs, waiting for Orders, and laſt Week were augmented with two 70 Gun Ships.

Warrants are out againſt an Iriſh man of the Temple, for going in the Name of Edward Walpole, Eſq; (Son of Sir Robert) to the Ambaſſador from Tunis, and telling him, If he would let Mr. Walpole have the two fine Arabian Horſes he lately brought over, and give the Meſſenger 60 Guineas for his Trouble, that Mr. Walpole would procure him, Duty free, a large Quantity of Coffee, &c. then lying at the Cuſtom Houſe for 600 l. Duty; upon which the Ambaſſador did deliver to him the two fine Horſes worth 500 l. and gave him the Money requeſted; the whole Trick being diſcovered by the Government, all poſſible Methods are uſing to bring the Offender to Juſtice.

We hear that the Concourſe of People at St. James's Houſe ſome Time ſince, to ſee the Royal Family dine in Publick and to ſee the Prince and Princeſs of Orange, was ſo exceeding great, that 'tis believed the Centinels got near 50 l. for admitting the People into the Court Yard, and up the great Stairs.

Hague, April 16. The Spaniſh Miniſter has this Evening received Advice from Italy, that the Magiſtrates of Naples went out to meet Don Carlos with the Keys of their City, and made their Submiſſions in form to his Royal Highneſs.

Barbados, April 24. On Monday laſt arrived Capt. King and Capt Holland from London, by whom there is an Account of the Death of Count Kilmanſeck, a Brother of My Lady HOWE.

We are credibly inform'd by a Veſſel lately arriv'd from the Coaſt of Guinea, that there is a Pirate cruiſing there, who has committed many Depredations.

Private Letters give an Account that there is a very hot Preſs to fit out the ſeveral Men of War, ſo that a War is ſupsupposed immediately to ensue; tho' others are of Opinion, that thro' the consumate Wisdom of those at the Helm, the Effusion of Blood will be prevented.

LONDON, April 25.

ANSWER of the States General to the King of Great Britain's LETTER, notifying to them the Marriage of the Princess Royal to the Prince of Orange.

WE are very sensible of the Honour your Majesty was pleased to do us, by your Letter of the 16th of March last acquainting us with the Motives which prevailed with your Majesty to consent to the Marriage between the Princess-Royal your eldest Daughter, and your Cousin the Prince of Orange and Nassau; and with the Accomplishment of that Marriage, by the Celebration of the Nuptials. We thank your Majesty for the Communication of that important Event, and heartily congratulate you thereupon, praying the Almighty to shower down the choicest of his Blessings upon that Alliance, that it may succeed to his Glory, to the entire Satisfaction of your Majesty, the High Contractors, and all the Royal Family; in short, that it may perfectly answer up to your Majesty's Views, as well as Wishes, for the Advancement of the Protestant Religion, the Security of the Succession to the Crown, according to the present Settlement, and the strengthening of the happy Union, Friendship and Confidence between your Majesty and our Republick.

The Assurances you have the goodness to give us of the Continuances of your valuable Affection for our Republick, and of your Inclination to cultivate and improve the Friendship and Confidence with us, which our common Interests require, are so agreeable to us, that we want Words to express our grateful Sense thereof: We look upon it as an Effect of that Friendship and Confidence of your Majesty, that you have taken for your Son in Law a Prince attached to our State, whose Personal Merit we honour, and do not forget the signal Services of his Ancestors. And since your Majesty has chosen a Free Republick, as Ours is to place your Daughter in, whom you so tenderly love, we hope she will enjoy all the Pleasure there, wich the Situation of the Place, and the present Constitution of our Government, the Preservation of which we have very much at Heart, can afford; and we shall endeavour to render her Abode with us as agreeable as possible, &c.

April 13. It is said the Earl of Westmorland hath resign'd his Place of Lord Commissioner of Trade and Plantations.

April 20. We have this Day an Account from Dublin that the Bill against Practising of Popish Solicitors in Ireland had passed the House of Lords, notwithstanding the most strenuous Endeavours to the contrary were used by the Chief People of that Persuasion.

This Day the Lord Mayor and Sheriffs met at Guildhall, and appointed the Election for the City of London on Tuesday next.

Our Fleet in the Downs was joined Yesterday by the Torbay and Burford, of 70 Guns each.

Boston, July 1. Mr. De Reck arrived Thursday Night in this Town by Land from South Carolina; out of a noble, generous Spirit conducted and his sole Expence & Charge, a considerable number of poor distressed Saltzburghers from their Country, unto the Province of Georgia, where he stay'd till he saw them Settle the Village of Ebenezer; and is now on his return home again upon the like account.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Post and Reputation from Canso, dated the 25th of June, 1734.

——"I take this Opportunity of Informing you, That at "present we have not any Business carried on in this Place "and have no Advice of the Arrival of any Vessels here "this Year, excepting only the King's Provision Ship, "which we expect Daily. Usually at this Season of the "Year we had in this Place 25,000 Qaintals of Fish, "and now we have not above 3 or 400, and the Boats "[illegible] Landed them are removing unless we have a con- "[illegible]ation of Peace, by the Store Ship or Man of W[illegible]

The Skin of the Sea Monster lately killed at Monument Pond, in this Province, by Fishermen, was sent to Boston (which was mentioned before in other publick Prints) where it has been shewn for some Time, till purchased by Capt. Hammerdon, who has got the Skin so well dressed and cured, there's no danger of preserving it to London. The Description we think nearest to this Monster, is that of a Walrushen or Sea Horse, in Purchas's Pilgrimes 3 d part, p. 475. Being a wonderful strong Monster of the Sea much bigger than an Ox, having a Skin like a Sea-Calf or Seale with very short Hair, Mouthed like a Lyon, four Feet but no Ears, two Teeth sticking out of its Mouth, on each side one, of a considerable length, (said to be half an Ell at full growth) Esteem'd in Muscovia and Tartaria, where they are known as good as Ivory or Elephant's Teeth. We hope Capt. Hammerdon meeting with this wonderful Monster (as it truly is) will have good Reason to promote the New-England Trade, tho' we cannot promise him another of the same Specie next Voyage. He proposes to sail to morrow for London, Wind and Weather permitting.

CHARLESTOWN, Aug. 10.

Mr. Scot, Lieutenant of His Majesty's Ship the Squirrel, and Lord Forrester are called home to be preferred; Mr. Hutten Lieutenant of His Majesty's Snow the Happy is put in his room, and Sr. Roger Lownds appointed Lieutenant of the said Snow.

On the 30 of April last sailed from this Port Capt. John Watson in the Sloop Dolphin bound for Mossaco, lying at the Entrance leading to Moville: in the Passage they touched at Jamaica, and arriv'd at their desired harbour on the 13th of June about 2 in the Afternoon. They lay there till the 16th when they heard a Gun fired, saw the Flag hoised up, and the Capt. was ordered on Shore. Having obeyed the Order he was committed to the Charge of a File of Musketeers, and having received by his Son his Papers, Money, and silver Spoons, he was convey'd, his Son accompanying him, to Moville. When the Captain left the Sloop, she was put into the Charge of a Serjeant, and 4 Soldiers; The Men who row'd the Captain on shore, were detain'd, and confin'd by the Lieutenant, who the Day following order'd 3 Soldiers more and a Pilot on board. The Mate, George Willis, perceiving these measures taken, thought proper to inform the Serjeant, that unless he would order the Pilot to return a-shore, and require the Lieutenant to send back the Men belonging to the Sloop, he would cut the Cables, let her drive, and drown them all: Whereupon it was imagin'd expedient to comply with his request. The Pilot with some of the Soldiers return'd, and acquainted the Lieutenant with the Mate's Resolution, who thereby was induced to release the Sloop's People, and immediately sent them on board. Next Day Mr. Willis sent the Pilot a-shore for Wood and Water, who returning deliver'd a Letter to the Serjeant, the Purport of which commanded a very strict Watch, the Doors to be lock'd up, the Seizure of the Arms and Subjection of the People.

Thus was the Situation of their Affairs till the 18th of June; when the Brigantine John, Samuel Parsons Commander, came to an Anchor Anchor about 4 Miles from the Sloop; the Owner of the Brigt. Mr. Escott went on board the Sloop, where having enquir'd how matters ſtood, he went a-ſhore to diſcourſe with the Lieutenant, and returning affirm'd to Mr. Willis, he was under a ſtrong Apprehenſion the Veſſels would be confiſcated. On the 20th Mr. Willis, on the firing of a Gun, and the hoiſing the Flag, ſent his boat a-ſhore, which Boat the Lieutenant order'd to go on board the Brigg the next morning, to acquaint Mr. Escott, he muſt come aſhore in his Boat with 4 of his Men.

Mr Willis, maturely having weighed the nature of ſo ſuſpicious an Affair, executed his reſolution to go off with the Sloop, his People being pre-acquainted of his Deſign, that night; to accompliſh which about 2 in the morning diſtributing Cutlaſſes to his 4 Men, they drove the Soldiers from the Quarter- into the Main-deck, thence into the Hold, and barr'd them up till Day-break, when he weighed Anchor and tow'd her out into 6 Foot Water: The Wind ſpringing up at E. N. E. they got clear of the Bank. Being about 5 Leagues from Land, he put 7 Soldiers into the Boat, having furniſhed it with neceſſary Proviſions, and bid them go on ſhore: The Serjeant and one Soldier entreated to remain with the Veſſel, affirming if they return'd they ſhould infallibly be ſhot.

The Brigantine perceiving the Sloop towing down, imagin'd ſhe had been taken, and therefore row'd away with all poſſible diſpatch, and notwithſtanding Signals were made to her to ſtay, ſhe purſued her courſe: But on the 22d, ſeeing the Sloop cloſe to the Wind, they made a Signal to her to bear away, and that afternoon ſpoke with one another. On the 23d for the ſpace of 8 hours they were chaſed by a large Ship, ſuppoſed to belong to the French, which finding ſhe was not able to come up with them, left the Chace and ſteer'd toward Moville or Miſſiſippi. The 25*th* the Brigg and Sloop parted, Mr. Willis arriving here the 30*th*, Capt. Parſon on the 31*ſt*. The 2 Frenchmen are by the Candour of his Excellency permitted to attempt at a Livelihood as Opportunity offers. There is no news yet of Capt. Watſon and his Son.

A private Letter from London, dated March 25. informs us, That "Coll Peter Purry is now in Switſerland, where "great numbers of People are preparing to go along with "him: He reckons to bring over 4 or 500, many of which "have got means to ſettle themſelves: They will be here "in July next to embark in Auguſt; their Deſign is to land "at the Town of Savannah in Georgia, and from thence "proceed to Purrysburg, in expectation to poſſeſs and enjoy "the Lands his Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to allot "them there, and to ſhare in the Encouragement that this "Province has given for the ſettling of Townſhips.
